ON-DEMAND EVENT GUIDE

MedComms Networking Pre-Christmas Event 2025

Publishing, AI and the future of medical communications

Revisit the conversations. Explore the ideas.

Bringing together freelancers, agency writers, recent graduates and professionals exploring the future of MedComms. Revisit two sessions covering publishing, AI, freelance work and medical education. Find the event resources on the St Giles Medical website: www.stgmed.com.

01 Publishing, AI & freelance rates

Martin Delahunty
The current state of medical publishing and the forces shaping how research is created and evaluated.

Corinne Swainger
Emerging AI opportunities for medical writers and editors, and how to collaborate effectively with AI.

Steph Carter and Vicki Evans
Findings from their freelance survey, with insights into MedComms freelance rates in 2025.

Watch session 1

02 Medical education & the future of MedComms

Caroline Halford and Leah Bundy
How medical education can be tailored for diverse audiences, regions and learner needs.

Alice Choi - keynote
Reflections on the past, present and future of medical communications, and what that future could look like.

Watch session 2